

EXTERNAL CORNER TROWEL

FORMS 90° CORNERS

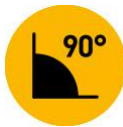

Engineered for precise corner finishing, the ROUGHNECK External Corner Trowel features a purpose-engineered blade-angle design, with the angle set less than 90°. Combined with the blade's controlled flex, this allows the tool to settle cleanly into a true 90° corner for smooth, consistent results. Rounded blade corners promote cleaner plaster flow and help reduce sanding during final finishing. Crafted from premium stainless steel, the blade offers strength, durability and rust resistance, while the flex profile supports faster application and a refined finish. A lightweight soft-grip handle provides control and comfort. The handle is welded to the blade via a chrome-plated steel connecting rod for added durability. A professional-grade corner-finishing trowel for achieving polished results on internal corners across drywall, stucco, concrete and other plastering materials.
